FOUNDERS OF LVIV SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AND DIPLOMATIC STUDIES (1930–1939) PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LVIV

Prof. Stanislav Dnistrianskyi
Professor of Austrian private and international private law with Ukrainian language of teaching. Defended the right of Ukrainians to self-determination at the Paris Peace Conference

Prof. Gustaw Roszkowski
Founder of the Department of Philosophy of Law and International Law

Prof. Ludwik Ehrlich
Head of the Department of International and Political Law, the founder of Diplomatic Studies

Prof. Mykhailo Lozynsky
The author of the first textbook of international law in the Ukrainian language, Deputy State Secretary of Foreign Affairs of the West Ukrainian People's Republic, delegate at the Paris Peace Conference

Prof. Alexander Maritczak
Professor of International Law at Clandestine Ukrainian University in Lviv, Head of the Department of International Law

Prof. Hersch Lauterpacht
Judge of International Court of Justice, the author of the concept of human rights in international law and the term “crimes against humanity”

Dr. Raphael Lemkin
The author of the term "genocide” in international law and Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide

Prof. Jan Karski (Kozielewski)
Graduate of Diplomatic Studies, Professor of Georgetown University, Nobel Peace Prize nominee for the detection of the crime of Holocaust

Prof. Louis B. Sohn
Graduate of Diplomatic Studies, co-author of the UN Charter, Professor of International Law of Harvard University and the George Washington University